ABOUT ME

I am a Software Engineering student from Portugal with 4+ years of experience from my internships and Self Learning + Personal Projects. I am passionate about technology and always eager to learn more. Outside University I've been studying Backend Development with Go to build lightning fast and efficient RESTful APIs I've also been studying Frontend Development with Vue.js to build modern and responsive web applications.

● HOBBIES AND INTERESTS

Taking Online Couses

There's a few things I enjoy doing during my free time, but I'd say my favourite is to take some online courses in Udemy about things that fascinate me, such as video game development, iOS app development using Swift and SwiftUI and API building with .NET, to name a few.
